

This book is a complete transcription of the second minute book for the proceedings of the Superior Court of Stewart County, Georgia, which at the time included all of present-day Webster and portions of Marion and Quitman Counties. The minutes include juror lists, suits, divorces, debts, land disputes, criminal prosecutions and other court cases for the years 1835 to 1839. These records prove to be a valuable source of information about persons who lived in this area of Georgia for a period of time when few other records are available. Information about ages, relationships, date of decease and other details about the residents can be gleaned from these minutes. The full-name index includes nearly 2,000 names, cross-referenced for spelling variations. In the text, all names are in bold in order to assist the reader in locating them.
